

The tree out of my window

THE OLIVE TREE

The olive tree (Elaia, Olea) is a genus of fruit-bearing trees of the Oleaceae family, which is very common in Greece. The fruit is also called olive, and olive oil is produced from it. The olive tree was the symbol of the goddess Athena.

The fruit of the olive tree is very basic for the Mediterranean diet, because it is edible and because it produces olive oil.

The story of my tree

- This tree is an olive tree. It is so special for me because my great grandfather planted it. This tree makes my garden my most favorite place in the world because when I am sad, it makes me think of my great grandfather. Also it reminds me of my grandfather. He loved that tree. He took care of it and from its fruits he got olive oil for his family. Also when my grandfather was too old, then my dad was responsible for this special tree. This is the story behind that tree and this is the reason why I love this TREE.

